Additional tenement application at the Mackay Project

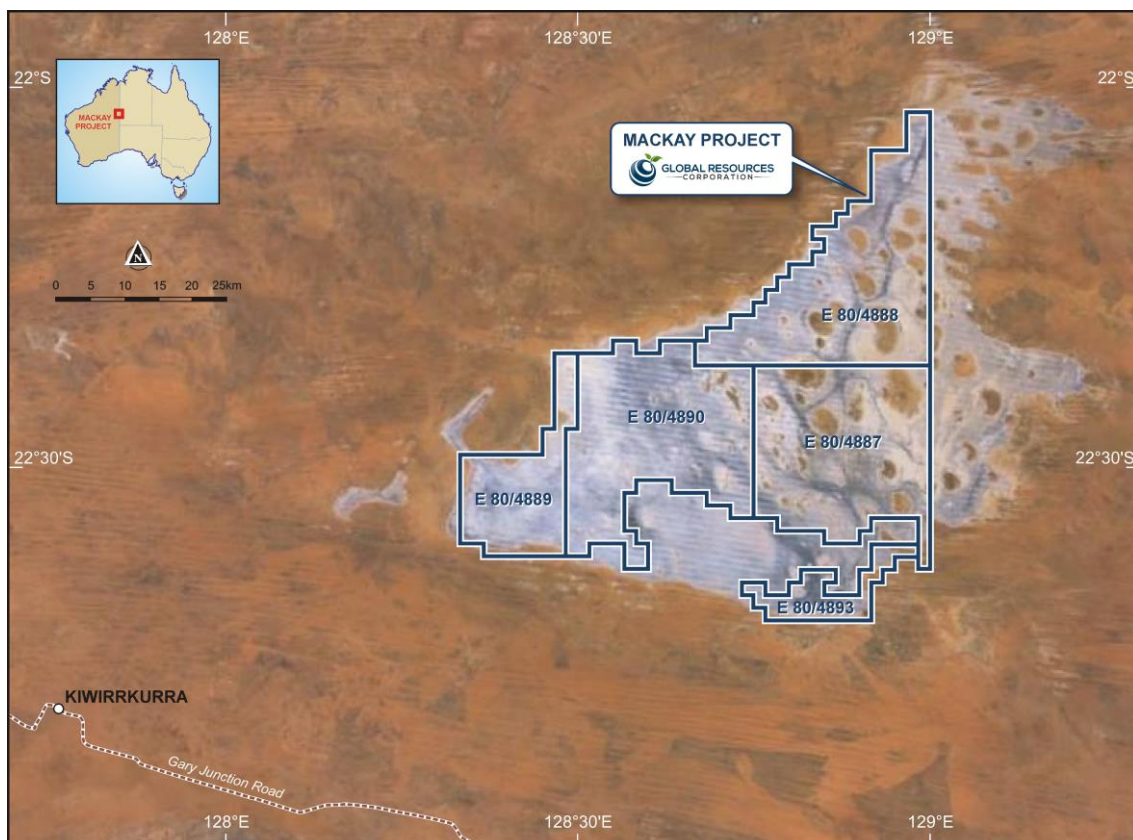

Global Resources Corporation Limited (ASX: GRM) (“Global” or “the Company”) is pleased to advise the Company has applied for an adjoining tenement in the southern area of the Mackay Project.

The Mackay Project now comprises of five Exploration Licence applications for a total area of 2,276km². The Company is delighted to have increased its tenement holdings over the prospective area of Lake Mackay, which is Western Australia’s largest salt lake with a surface area of close to 3,500km².

The Mackay Project area was subject to a drilling program of 24 shallow drill holes in September 2009. The Company is currently undertaking a thorough review of all available previous exploration data.

The Company also continues to assess a range of business development opportunities, focusing on low entry cost projects and the monitoring of ground availability surrounding existing projects.
